Dan Harada's Nagatacho Forum is the leading consultancy firm for communication between foreign business representatives and Japanese leaders in politics and administration.

In his speech Mr Harada will discuss what Abenomics 2.0 and Prime Minister Abe's bid for a reboot for Japan politically involves. Knowing the intricacies of the political system in Japan, Mr Harada will also touch upon Japan specifics about lobbying for business interests and expectations for next year's election.

About the speaker

Dan Harada grew up in France before working in the United States and later settling in Japan where he obtained the Japanese nationality in 1987.
